Thank you for your helping hand

Please display this poster in your window to display a message of hope.

The children we care for have severe brain injury and neurodisability, and our work just can't stop. So thank you for your kindness in thinking about us when life is difficult for everyone right now.

After this crisis is over, our children have their whole future ahead of them. Your support means that we can give them the chance to approach their lives with hope and much-needed confidence, so they can live the best life possible.
